#communityOVERcompeition

Contribute to a movement that brings life saving tech to communities in need. 5% of all sales funds the next charity install.

Join our cause, make a difference, and inspire others. Community over competition is the mission!

Founded in 2021 by four industry leaders with over 75 years of collective experience in the Technology sphere, TeKnowledge World Wide (TKW) exists to inspire collaboration and networking across tech trades, while utilizing member expertise to enact lasting change through philanthropic work. Primarily an online community, TKW also lives in the real world as members seek out partnership on local projects, learn new skills, and share the unique things that come with working in technology. Through collaboration and mentorship, our TKW members have increased their expertise, visibility, drive, and entrepreneurial spirits. Building lasting relationships founded on mutual respect and communal opportunity is one of TKW's guiding principles: #communityOVERcompetition.

TKW partners with premier manufacturers and distributers who share our vision, growing together and creating a robust community founded in philanthropy – doing what is right for others with less opportunity. In our first two years, members have donated over $175,000 in products and services to lift a community in Philadelphia struggling to provide a safe haven for families navigating financial and medical hardships. TKW members (pictured) installed a wireless network, 32 security cameras, electronic card access, and several miles of wiring to make them feel safe, and provide the basic infrastructure needed to promote healing and opportunity.

In 2023, we launched TekFest in South Carolina, bringing together industry veterans for a weekend of live demonstrations, "TekTalks," and ample opportunity for discussion and professional development – all to further our mission.

Please join us, you are only a follow away from being part of something huge. @TKWW